April 14      Third Sunday of Easter      Luke 24:35-48

In today's Gospel, Jesus appears among the disciples and says, "Peace be to you." But the Apostles feel anything but peace in this moment! They are frightened out of their wits because they think Jesus is a ghost. Only after Jesus shows the Apostles the nail marks in his feet and hands, and eats some of their food do they believe Jesus is truly risen. Jesus explains that from now on they are called to testify to his life, death, and resurrection so that all people everywhere might believe, repent their sins, & be saved.

*-Think of an experience that brought peace to your life in the midst of a difficult time. Describe it.
-Where is the "mission field" Jesus has sent you?*

Scriptures for today are Acts 3:13-15, 17-19;
Psalm 4:2, 4, 7-9; 1 John 2:1-5; Luke 24:35-48.

Monday, April 22, Earth Day
Restore our Common Home

"Living our vocation to be protectors of God's handiwork is essential to a life of virtue; it is not an optional or a secondary aspect of our Christian experience." Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato Si', 217

REGINA COELI

prayed in place of the Angelus during the Easter season

Queen of Heaven, rejoice, Alleluia
 For he whom you did merit to bear, Alleluia
 Has risen as he said, Alleluia
 Pray for us to God, Alleluia
 Rejoice and be glad, O Virgin Mary, Alleluia
 For the Lord is truly Risen, Alleluia
 Let us pray: O God, who by the resurrection of your Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, has been pleased to fill the world with joy, grant we beseech you, that through the intercession of the Virgin Mary, his Mother, we may receive the joys of eternal life, through the same Christ our Lord, Amen.

The Resurrection in the Catechism of the Catholic Church

The condition of Christ's risen humanity

645 By means of touch and the sharing of a meal, the risen Jesus establishes direct contact with his disciples. He invites them in this way to recognize that he is not a ghost and above all to verify that the risen body in which he appears to them is the same body that had been tortured and crucified, for it still bears the traces of his Passion. Yet at the same time this authentic, real body possesses the new properties of a glorious body: not limited by space and time but able to be present how and when he wills; for Christ's humanity can no longer be confined to earth, and belongs henceforth only to the Father's divine realm. For this reason too the risen Jesus enjoys the sovereign freedom of appearing as he wishes: in the guise of a gardener or in other forms familiar to his disciples, precisely to awaken their faith.

646 Christ's Resurrection was not a return to earthly life, as was the case with the raisings from the dead that he had performed before Easter: Jairus' daughter, the young man of Naim, Lazarus. These actions were miraculous events, but the persons miraculously raised returned by Jesus' power to ordinary earthly life. At some particular moment they would die again. Christ's Resurrection is essentially different. In his risen body he passes from the state of death to another life beyond time and space. At Jesus' Resurrection his body is filled with the power of the Holy Spirit: he shares the divine life in his glorious state, so that St. Paul can say that Christ is "the man of heaven".
